4 你的长处和短处是什么?

Your own strengths:

I'm a fast learner: I learn things very fast, and I can adapt to new environment in a short time;

I have good analytical and problem solving skills, which will help me a lot during my MBA;

I have a potential of management and leadership, which was demonstrated and recognized in my company, but I still want to get it improved systematically in Jiaotong University.

Your own weaknesses:

Talking about my weakness, I think I should work on my management ability. You know, I have a technical background, so sometimes I have problem to manage things and allocate resources properly, assign people with tasks, or keep things under control. That's why I'm eager to improve my management in this MBA program.

5 在空余时间有什么爱好?

There are a lot of things that I do in my free time. As people say, all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy, and I perfectly understand the importance of relaxation after work.

I like sports very much and football is my biggest favorite. It's always great to get together with my mates on weekends, and keep running around the ground for a few hours. It makes me physically stronger and totally refreshed.

I also like reading much. Not too many people today can really sit down and read a book for more than 2 hours every day. But as I think, reading is a rewarding hobby, as it can make you mentally smarter.

One more thing, I like to travel around. I enjoy talking to new people and get to know new customs and places.

核心句型, 因果逻辑

My biggest hobby is sports, because it can make me physically stronger.

Traveling is my biggest hobby because _____

I also like computer games a lot, because _____ 6 为什么以前曾经辞职?

Well, I think there are many reasons why I quit my job 2 years ago from Sony to Samsung.

First of all, the incentive system in Sony was not very good. I mean, personal benefits are not closely related to ones work performance, so people would lack motivation to work hard;

Another reason is that there was limited room for my further career development. My goal was to become the CFO in a giant company, but the opportunity was slim in Sony;

The last reason was that the job was not exactly what I liked most. In fact, I prefer a bit more challenging job, but my work in Sony was a little routine, and my interests and abilities could not be fully put into play.

Whatever the reason, I'm still thankful to Sony, which had offered me a very good opportunity to develop my abilities and improve my management skills.

7 过去工作中最大的成就是什么？

Actually, my past work experience is a chain of failures and achievements!

Yet, talking about the biggest achievement, I think it was 2 years ago, when I was the Manager of Logistic Department in an E-business Company, dangdang.com.

The problem facing the company at that time is that it was troubled with high operating cost and low delivery efficiency. In order to make the situation better, I worked with my mates on the Information System for half a year, and also brought forward our plans of how to better our warehouses and deliveries.

The job was well done, and we successfully cut operating cost by 20%. It was because of this that I was promoted to the Vice president of this company.

- ◇ The company is troubled with _____
- ◇ To make the situation better, we _____
- ◇ We successfully _____

8 你的上司和同事如何评价你？

(How the hell can I know?! I never ask them about that!)

I guess my boss would say about me like this: "Samuel? He is a good guy, He worked very hard and his work performance was always good. He always fulfilled the objectives efficiently and he had made great contribution to the growth of our company. His teamwork ability was perfect, and he knew how to cooperate with others to get job done. What's more, he had demonstrated huge potential of management and leadership. He was creative, flexible and adaptive. Last, he had good infinity and human skills, and communication ability is great."

As to my mates, I think we have good relations both in the office and after work. To them, I'm an amicable friend to get along with, a humorous person to talk with.

work performance

teamwork ability
cooperate with other people
infinity / human skills
Get along with people well

9 结婚了吗？有没有孩子？简要介绍一下你的家庭？

There are 3 members in my family: father, mother, my sister and I. My father is a government official in Reform and Development Committee. He has been working on his position for years and has devoted himself so much to the economic progress of my hometown. My mother has retired because of her health. I also have an elder sister who is working in Commercial Bank. I'm lucky that I have such a warm and loving family, and they've given me so much unconditional love.

My father is the one who has the most profound influence on me. He is a businessman, and he knows a lot about how to run his business in a profitable way. I believe that my sense of business is at least partly related to his influence over the years.

I'm happily married now, and I have a nice wife, along with a cute boy.

I'm still single, because I want to develop my career before I settle down in marriage.

10 如果面试失败，你会如何？

A: What if you fail this time?

B: Possible but ready.

A: How are you going to feel?

B: I will be sad. I've been waiting so long for this moment to come, and I've been making so many efforts to prepare for this. And if I fail, no denial, I would be sad, as it is human nature to be sad when work hard doesn't paid off.

A: But 40% of those who take interview today are going to be sad, so why not you?

B: Yes, that's the story, there are a lot of outstanding mates waiting outside, so why not me? Actually, I think I have tried my best, and I'm trying my best in this interview, and I'm confident I will stand out, though it's possible I will not.

11 为什么报考 MBA?

Well, it was 2 years ago that I had the thought that I wanted to pursue a MBA degree.

First of all, as I got higher on the position ladder, and assumed bigger responsibility, I began to feel that my management ability was gradually pulling me back in my career development.

Second, I take MBA because I want to have a career change. I started working as an engineer 5 years ago. I know how to develop new products, but I'm not very good at marketing these products and convert them into profits. That's why I hope MBA would help me in this respect.

13 你了解我们的学校吗?

JIAODA /TONGJI University is one of the oldest and one of the most famous universities in China.

Over the years, it has been dedicated to foster high quality students for the economic growth of our country. Right now, JIAODA University has been put priority of higher learning education development in China.

It has advanced teaching facilities and best talented teachers from both at home and abroad. It also actively participates in various international academic exchanges, and its research capability is greatly recognized and appreciated in the world.

JIAODA also has one of the best MBA programs in China. For a long time, it has sent hundreds of well-trained senior managers to the market, and has made huge contribution to our modernization of management. I'm sure there will be so much for me to benefit in the coming 2 years.

14 你认为你做一个 MBA 学生合格吗?

Well I think I do.

First, my score of the written exam is not bad, which means I have good language proficiency, sound logic ability, and required intelligence, which are important requirement of MBA student.

Second, I have many achievements in my past work history, and I have also demonstrated much individual potential on my job, like leadership skills and communication ability.

Third, my learning ability is good, which means I won't be exhausted in my coming MBA study.

15 你对于 MBA 详细的学习计划?

Well I think I do, though it's not as detailed as my daily timetable.

I guess my MBA study will fall into 3 steps.

For the first couple of months, I will basically focus on textbooks. I mean I will try my best to learn elementary MBA courses, like management science, the art of decision making, finance, marketing and alike. Through the first step, I expect to lay a solid theoretical foundation for my further learning.

During the second step, I will find chances to put my knowledge into full play. There are actually a lot of ways to do it, like case study, management practice, forum, simulation, intern and etc. By doing these, I expect to have some hands-on experience of how these theories can be best used in real world,

As to the last step, I will try to position myself in the working world by what I have learnt. Say, I find out I'm especially good at finance, so why not join famous companies like Morgan Stanley?

16 你认为你会在 MBA 学习中受益吗?

Hugely!

The benefits are:

My strengths will be strengthened and my weakness will be weakened.

Seriously, I reckon I will benefit in the following.

To start with, my business knowledge will be enriched. By learning those scientifically designed curriculums, like economics, management, finance and marketing, I will more deeply than ever understand how the business world really goes around.

Second, I guess my mindset will be changed. I mean I will have a brand new way of looking at problems, by learning new approaches of decision makings. One more thing, my leadership skills will be promoted and I will know better how to conduct business in my future work.

Last, my business network will be expanded by getting to know many talented classmates, and I will have clearer ideas of how to develop my career in the future.

17 你在将来 5 年的职业规划如何?

This is a personal question, and I can't guarantee it's what you want.

企业精英型

- 5 years from now, I would see myself as one of the major players in a giant multinational company.
- I expect to become a CEO of a financial firm 5 years later.
- I desire to become a CFO of a stated-owned enterprise in 5 years.
- I set my goal of becoming the senior manager in a consulting firm 5 years from now.

Why do you desire to become a CFO of a stated-owned enterprise in 5 years?

First, I've always been hugely interested in financial job, so I guess I will take finance-related jobs after MBA graduation.

Second, I want to take some positions of real and big responsibilities,

自己创业型

Future is unpredictable, but it's never bad to have a plan, isn't it? It's my dream that I want to run my own business after this MBA program. What exactly I want to do is that I will probably open an e-business company all by myself. I think I'm doing the right thing at the right time, since internet economy is the most promising industry today, and more and more people will flock to the internet to shop. To answer your question just now, I expect myself to be the CEO of a private-owned e-business company 5 years later.

18 工作经验对于 MBA 来说重要吗?

Well, as far as I see it, working experience is important, but not prerequisite for MBA study.

Working experience is important because, first of all, students with experiences will have clearer targets of what they want to learn during their study. For example, a student with a technical background will focus on the learning of economic and managerial knowledge. Secondly, students with work experience will choose to look at and analyze problems in a different way. A financial formula which is no difference from a pure mathematical equation to a college student will convey deeper underlying meanings to a MBA student. A college student wonders why he has to learn this or that, but a MBA student knows exactly why. A college student wonders how to use the knowledge in real world, but a MBA student does.

So working experience serves as a guide in MBA study.

19 如何看待英语在 MBA 中的重要性的?

There is no doubt that English is very very important in MBA study.

To begin with, almost all of the modern economic and management theory is coming from the developed English speaking countries. If we better master this language, we will not only feel easier to learn the knowledge, but will also much more deeply understand them.

Secondly, MBA students usually have classes given by foreign teachers. What's more, students with better English ability will have more opportunities to be selected as exchange student to other countries for academic activities.

Lastly, students with good English will be more likely to find better jobs with higher salary after graduation. As we know, most of the top international companies usually have high requirements of English proficiency.

20 MBA 毕业后一定会找到更好的工作吗?

First of all, I want to make sure that I apply for MBA not because I expect to find a better job. The real reason for my application is that I desire to improve my management knowledge and other related skills during these 2 years,

What's more, it's not easy to say if we can find better jobs or not. Finding a job is a mutual choice, with companies opening positions and looking for the qualified candidates, and with students making detailed self-assessment and trying to find the best employers. Better job is obtained only if these two demands are perfectly matched.

Last, the job market is always changing, according to the overall well-being of the economy, If the entire business is good, the demand for MBA will also increase, and vice versa. Anyway, my point is that: when you are improving the right things at the right time, there will always be right positions for you right after your graduation.
